

Congratulations

B'lore doctor wins award

BANGALORE, DHNS: Dr Asha Benakappa of the Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute, has won a national award, instituted by the Breast-feeding Promotion Network of India (BPNI), for creating awareness on the importance of breastfeeding. BPNI, in a statement said that the World Breastfeeding Week was held from August 1 to 7 across the country. BPNI had received a total of 108 reports from various organisations and individuals for the competition. An expert committee has selected 15 organisations and five individuals for the awards. Benakappa had conducted a host of workshops, talks and competitions, educating doctors, nurses and the public on the subject.